

Shaking up Country Music for a Bilingual Generation

Described by KSAT 12's Good Morning San Antonio as "A Tejano artist with a voice as big as the Lonestar State", Veronique Medrano is a Tex Mex (Tejano) Country Artist out of South Texas. With over 40 original songs and counting to her catalogue, it has been said that her music is a celebration of her Mexican and American roots, and shows what it is like being a bilingual millennial Mexican-American in the United States.
